I understand that when a student attends a post-secondary institution, the Family Educational Rights Privacy Act states that parents do not have access to their student's educational records. Parents must have written permission from the student before information will be released, and information will not be given over the phone. (Contact Admissions and Records for further information).

I realize that academic freedom is zealously guarded in college classrooms and as such, topics and ideas of a controversial or sensitive nature may be discussed.

If taking academic courses, it is important to meet with a GBC advisor to clarify enrollment and academic progress. Continued enrollment is contingent upon review of academic progress each semester.
