Rural Nonprofit Management Certificate

This program, offered by the University of Nevada, Reno, is designed to assist nonprofits in rural areas. The series of topics will allow nonprofits to strengthen leadership and governance skills; think strategically for future financial needs; learn the elements of grant writing; develop marketing plans, including the use of social media; IRS 990s; handle volunteers; and develop their board; as well as developing policies and procedures that will enhance long-term success.

To earn a certificate in the Rural Nonprofit Management program, a student must complete the full five-day series. Upon completion of the series, a Certificate in Rural Nonprofit Management will be awarded. Many professionals can be served by this unique program: those working in the nonprofit sector, board members and volunteers, those new to the field or those wishing to enter the nonprofit sector.

Materials, morning refreshments, lunch and parking are included in your registration fee. Organizations sending three or more people should call our office at (800) 233-8928 or (775) 784-4046 and ask about available discounts (discounts available via phone registration only).

Global Warming: Fact or Fiction?

Media hype and doomsday scenarios have made it difficult to discern science from pseudoscience. This class will help uncover fact from fiction by observing predictions made by global alarmists and claims made by media outlets and comparing their claims to scientific sources. We will compare books and films from the pro and con sides and attempt to analyze them critically. The recent sensationalist coverage of the fires in the Amazon rainforest is one example of how politicians, celebrities, and the media can manufacture crises from false information. Books average $20 and are not included in the course fee. It is not required for you to purchase books.

Weight Loss 101: Simple Steps to Healthy Weight Loss

Have you tried making New Year's Resolutions in the past but found they didn’t last? Start this year off with the support you need to lose weight, eat healthier, and feel confident in your food choices.

Ditch the fad diets and crazy elimination diets for good with this 4-week series. Learn to control your food intake through self monitoring, mindful eating, and realistic goal setting for your weight loss journey.

We will cover the basics of nutrition, how to make healthy food choices, control your portions, and interpret a food label. We will also discuss how to shop and cook using healthy techniques, how to eat well away from home, and how to cope with emotional eating, social gatherings, and other challenges.

Your future is in your hands and with a few lifestyle modifications, you can decrease your risk of developing certain diseases. You will gain the skills to modify your eating habits and behaviors. Each participant will receive a Real Solutions Weight Loss Workbook.

The last day to enroll is January 10 to ensure that the books will arrive before the class start date.
