ADDRESS ONLY THE
COMMISSIONER OF THE GENERAL LAND OFFICE

:Fourth section allotment.

Registered in the Office of the Commissioner

Sirs:

On January 22, 1915, Tim Hooper, a Shoshone Indian of Lander, Nevada, filed Indian allotment application No. 66914, for the S.E. 1/4 Sec. 21, and N.W. 1/4 Sec. 22, T. 14 S., R. 46 E., M. D., 160 acres, under Section 4 of the Act of February 8, 1897 (2d Stat., 388) and the amendments thereto.

The Register certifies that this application was for surveyed agricultural land. The non-mineral affidavit classified said lands as suitable for "agricultural and grazing" purposes.

By letter of March 2, 1915, additional evidence was required as to the character of his improvements and the extent of use or occupancy of said land together with an affidavit as to the character of the land.

In his first letter of April 6, 1911, you transmitted the corroborated affidavit of Tim Hooper, in which he states that he first made settlement in June 1914, and since that time he has occupied and improved said land; that he has a substantial house 12 x 17 and lumber on the ranch to build another house; a barn, corrals, feed racks, farming implements; has nearly all the land inclosed by a fence and has constructed over two miles of irrigating ditches. He further states that the main ditch from Walker Creek and lateral thereof will irrigate the ranch 14 acres; that all of this tract is smooth gravel land, every square foot of which can be put in cultivation, and he has a total of 56.3 acres in meadow, 17.7 of which cultivated to garden and grains, all of which he has reclaimed from the desert land condition through grubbing and clearing. The affidavit of the corroborating witnesses speaks very highly of the industry and character of this Indian.

Section 4 of the act of February 5, 1897, as amended by the act of June 25, 1910 (36 Stat., 77-100) allows an Indian allotment for

Carson City 08984 "X" LEX

"Not to exceed, however, 40 acres of irrigable land, or 80 acres of non-irrigable, agricultural land, or 160 acres of non-irrigable grazing land, to any one Indian."

It would appear that this allotment application covers more irrigable land than can be obtained under said acts.

You will now notify Tim Hooper and the Indian agent nearest the land that 30 days are hereby allowed within which to shew cause why he should not file an election as to which 40 acres of the 160 acres in his allotment he will retain.

However, the Indian homestead law of July 4, 1884 (23 Stat., 96), provides that "such Indians as may now be located on public lands, or as may under the direction of the Secretary of the Interior, or otherwise hereafter so locate," may avail themselves of the provisions of the homestead laws as fully and to the same extent as may now be done by citizens of the United States. An application to have his allotment changed to an Indian homestead would be duly considered by this office.

Should no action be taken or appeal filed herefrom within the time allowed, this allotment application, which is hereby held for rejection, will be finally re-

" Fourth section allotment,

Register and Receiver,

Carson City, Nevada.

Gent:

On January 22, 1915, Tim Hooper, a Shoshone Indian of Manhattan, Nevada, filed Indian allotment application No. 06084, for the S3/2 NE/4, E/2 NW/4 Sec. 21, and N3/4 SW/4 Sec. 22, T.11 N., R.46, E., M.D.M., 160 acres, under Section 4 of the act of February 8, 1907 (24 Stat. 388) and the amendments thereof.

The Register certified that this application was for surveyed agricultural land. The non-mineral affidavit classified said land as suitable for "agricultural and grazing" purposes.

By letter of March 2, 1916, additional evidence was required as to the character of his improvements and the extent of his use or occupancy of this land together with an affidavit as to the character of the land.

With your letter of April 8, 1918, you transmitted the corroborated affidavit of Tim Hooper, in which he states that he first made settlement in June 1914, and since that time he has occupied and improved said land; that he has a substantial house 12 X 17 and lumber on the ranch to build another house; a barn, corrals, feed racks, farming implements; has nearly all the land inclosed by a fence and has constructed over two miles of irrigating ditches. He further stated that the main ditch from Andrew Creek and laterals therefrom will irrigate the entire 160 acres; that all of this tract is smooth arable land, every square foot of which can be put in cultivation, and he has a total of 58.3 acres in meadow, 17.7 acres cultivated to garden and grains, all of which he has reclaimed from its desert land condition through grubbing and clearing. The affidavit of the corroborating witnesses speaks very highly of the industry and character of this Indian.

Section 4 of the act of February 6, 1887, as amended by the act of June 25, 1910, (36 Stat. 855, 860) allows an Indian allotment for

It will appear that this allotment application covers more irrigable land than can be obtained under said acts.

You will now notify Tim Cooper and the Indian agent nearest the land that 30 days are hereby allowed within which to show cause why he should not file an election as to which 40 acres of the 160 acres in his allotment he will retain.

However, the Indian homestead law of July 4, 1884 (23 Stat., 96), provides that "such Indians as may now be located on public lands, or as may under the direction of the Secretary of the Interior, or otherwise hereafter be located," may avail themselves of the provisions of the homestead laws as fully and to the same extent as may now be done by citizens of the United States. An application to have his allotment changed to an Indian homestead would be duly considered by this office.

Should no action be taken or appeal filed herefrom within the time allowed, this allotment application, which is hereby held for rejection, will be finally rejected without further notice from this office. Two copies are inclosed for service.

Very respectfully,
